Certainly! Here's a basic example of a simple travel blog website layout using HTML and CSS. You can customize it further to fit your specific needs.

```html
<!DOCTYPE html>
<html>
<head>
  <title>My Travel Blog</title>
  <link rel="stylesheet" type="text/css" href="style.css">
</head>
<body>
  <header>
    <h1>My Travel Blog</h1>
    <nav>
      <ul>
        <li>Home</li>
        <li>Destinations</li>
        <li>Blog</li>
        <li>About</li>
        <li>Contact</li>
      </ul>
```

```html
      </nav>
  </header>

  <section class="main-content">
    <article>
      <h2>Exploring the Beaches of Bali</h2>
      <img src="bali.jpg" alt="Bali Beach">
      Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. ...
      Read More </article>

    <article>
      <h2>Hiking in the Swiss Alps</h2>
      <img src="swiss.jpg" alt="Swiss Alps">
      Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. ...
      Read More </article>
  </section>

  <aside>
    <h2>Popular Destinations</h2>
    <ul>
      <li>Paris, France</li>
      <li>Tokyo, Japan</li>
      <li>Machu Picchu, Peru</li>
```

```
        <li>Santorini, Greece</li>

      </ul>

    </aside>

    <footer>

      &copy; 2023 My Travel Blog

    </footer>

  </body>

</html>
```

And here's a basic CSS (`style.css`) to style this layout:

```css
body {

  font-family: Arial, sans-serif;

  margin: 0;

  padding: 0;

}

header {

  background-color: #333;

  color: #fff;

  text-align: center;

  padding: 10px;
```

```css
}

nav ul {
    list-style: none;
}

nav li { display: inline;
    margin-right: 20px;

.main-content {
    display: flex;
    justify-content: space-between;
    padding: 20px;
}

article {
    width: 45%;
    border: 1px solid #ddd;
    padding: 10px;
    margin: 10px;
}

article h2 {
```

```css
    font-size: 1.5em;
}

aside{
    width: 25%;
    background-color: #f4f4f4;
    padding: 20px;
}

footer{
    text-align: center;
    background-color: #333;
    color: #fff;
    padding: 10px;
}
```
